Who is required to complete an I-9 form?

• All employees (citizen and non citizens) hired after November 6, 1986 working in the United States. This includes student employees.

What is right to work documentation?

• As an employer we are required to verify that you have a right to work in the United States. To complete an I-9 form that verifies your right to work, you must provide original, unexpired documents at the time the form is completed and submitted to us as the employer. A list of acceptable documents is on the back of the I-9 form. Employees may present any list A document or a combination of a list B & a list C document.

What if I do not have original documents?

• We are required by law to verify original documents. Unfortunately, we cannot accept a photo copy. If you are unable to provide original and acceptable documents, you will not be authorized to work.

What if I have not worked in a few years but completed all the necessary paperwork previously?

• We are able to update your original I-9 form within 3 years of your original completed form. If you have not worked in 12 + months your I-9 form will need to be updated and re-verified.

What do I do if I moved to campus and didn’t bring any of the documents from the acceptable list?

• In order to work on campus you need to make arrangements to have the document/s sent to you. Once we have seen the original document/s and verified them, we will return them to you. You may send them back home after we have done so for safe keeping.
