WHY STUDY ABROAD IN FLORENCE

A city that challenges the concepts of past, present, and future: Florence, a European center of art, history, and culture, is the capital of the Italian region of Tuscany. Its geographic location allows easy access to every region of Italy; Florence has changed global and Western thought considering its revolutionary impact through the first banking systems, the widening of architectural and artistic perspectives during the Renaissance, and modern political science and philosophy. It is an excellent compass for navigating Italian culture through its linguistic importance, an ambassador of Italian regionality through its capital position in Tuscany, a site where many of Italy’s important moments unfolded throughout time. Florence today, with its unique characteristics coupled with a primary position in international and Italian tourism, economy, and culture, is an intriguing example of how past, present, and future blend together in a stimulating expression of the European city. Students seeking to study abroad in Florence find themselves immersed in an environment where all areas of human experience and study offer continuous and multifold opportunities to learn and be profoundly changed by the life and activity taking place here.

The program offers a wide variety of volunteer opportunities to suit different interests: organizations range from local museums, canteens, and churches of various denominations, to International NGOs. Each of our partner associations is unique and volunteers are often the fundamental element that keeps these associations in operation! Most of the organizations do not require particular skills or the ability to speak Italian, but they all require a serious commitment from volunteers in order to accomplish their goals. Please note:

Placement areas of volunteer opportunities may take place at the Palazzi Foundation Community Engagement Member Institutions, which are actively linked to FUA’s campuses and academic divisions.

Chat Pal

This language exchange activity connects Italian and foreign students in order to make a meaningful connection with a member of the community, and also improve your language skills. Students and families will be “matched” according to the characteristics and requirements of both parties. They will build a two-way relationship and communication skills that will develop over the semester through mutual and productive exchanges. Please note that the number of host families is limited, therefore, not all applicants will be accepted in the program.

La Palestra, the workout room located on campus, offers an exercise facility and free classes throughout the year.
