

UTICA COLLEGE

Department of History

War and Terror: Central New York Reacts

Preface

John C. Swanson

Illion and Utica in World War I: Economic Impact and Social Consequences

Craig Nelson

Illion, New York: How War Affected a Village

Bob Silverthorn

The Cold War and McCarthyism: The Affect of Central New York, 1947-1953

Maurice Pauline

Bosnian Refugees in Utica, New York: Rebuilding their Lives for the Future

Natalie Campbell

The Celebrated Surrender of a Legacy of Red-Checkered Aprons and Inhibited
Ways: Women's Involvement on the Home Front in the Mohawk Valley

Jessica Tinker

The Holocaust: Local Perspectives and Reactions

Frank Robertello

World War II Veterans: The Readjustment to Life
Darren Degennaro

German Prisoners of War: Life in the Mohawk Valley
Emily Derouche

Disillusionment: Vietnam Veterans from the Mohawk Valley
David Wade

Turbulent Times: The Antiwar Movement at Utica College, 1965-1970
Sarah Jacobowitz

Vietnam War, POWs, and MIAs: The War Continues for Families of Missing
Soldiers
Rocco J. Fanelli